

ASPILUKI
The Indonesia Telematics Software Association

Organization Profile

ASPILUKI as an association consists of companies in the software and IT services industry. Some of the 85 registered members are representative of large multinationals and many others are local Indonesian IT companies large and small, located in many cities around Indonesia. The initial mission of the association was to create a conducive business environment in order to develop a healthy industry of software and IT services in Indonesia. After it was first setup in 1991 the association immediately became actively involved with copyright protection programs, by working with government and law enforcement agencies. Software piracy was a major concern then and continued to be a concern until now.

The association is also focusing on government policies and regulations that need to promote IT in general and software utilization in particular. In 2002 the association was given the assignment to formulate the Application Framework for Indonesian E-government. To accelerate the growth of new software entrepreneurs ASPILUKI with the support of the government has started implementation of the RICE initiatives. RICE that stands for Regional IT Center of Excellence, is a center developed in many potential regions through out Indonesian. RICE mission is to provide the needed infrastructure, technical assistance and managerial guidance to startup and small software companies, to accelerate their growth and increase their success rate. ASPILUKI also contributes in defining the national standard for competency in the area of software development. The final objective is to be able to certify various occupations in the field of IT.

Besides the domestic activities ASPILUKI continues to promote international cooperation's by actively participating as a member of ASOCIO. In the year 2002 ASPILUKI hosted the ASOCIO Officers meeting and also organized the Korea Indonesia ICT Forum. In the year 2003, ASPILUKI organized for the second time the Indonesia APICTA (Asia Pacific ICT Award) where Indonesian software developer received prestigious awards for their innovation both in country and in the regional level.

ASPILUKI have successfully held IndoSoft in the year 2002 and 2003, an annual software focused conference and exhibition that first started in 2001 as IndoSoft 2001.

The Indonesian IT Industry continues to be challenged by many unsupportive conditions in Indonesia, but having a team of highly spirited, highly motivated and hard working experienced professionals in the organization, ASPILUKI is optimistic about the future.

ASPILUKI missions are:

- Developing its members in the areas of business and human resources
- Socializing information technology and its utilization to improve productivity
- Providing input to various organization to develop the software industry and the information technology services industry
- Developing and coordinating a cooperation with similar associations internationally for business networking and technology transfer
- Helping the implementation of Copyright Protection

Benefit as a member:

- Among member can share their business experiences, business possibility and or develop cooperation where the association acts as a facilitator
- Becoming part of software technology and services industry community network to develop a wide cooperation, national and internationally. This is supported by ASPILUKI position as a well known organization in Indonesia private and government institution.
- Through the organization, members can give inputs on the industry development in general and the member interest in specific.
- Member can participate in organization activities under a special program.
- The member certificates can be use to strengthen the company credibility, when needed, to confirm their customer.
- The company, as a member, will get the newest information about government policy, and business possibility from the organization.
-

2003 Activities:

- Organize International Conference on IT with KOREA, USA and CANADA
- IndoSoft 2003 Software Exhibition and Conference.
- APICTA (Asia Pacific IT Awards) both at national level and also at Asia Pacific level.
- Launch the NICE/RICE (National IT Center of Excellence/ Regional IT Center of Excellence) Training Program
- Held a Software Asset Management Seminar as a support program in Copy Right Law in cooperation with Business Software Alliances (BSA).
- ICT Forum 2005 in associated with Korean Embassy in Indonesia

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The members of ITSA / ASPILUKI are companies whose business is in information service industry, such as computer software industry, consultation service and solution for information technology service.

ASPILUKI Secretariat Office
Jl. Taman Gandaria No. A7.
Kebayoran Lama - Jakarta 12240
Ph. 62-21-0888—179-1440
E-mail. aspiluki@indo.net.id