

FITIS

FEDERATION OF THE INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY INDUSTRY SRI LANKA (FITIS)

Year Established : 1996

Mission : To be the apex national organization leading and representing the IT Industry in Sri Lanka

Membership :

The Federation of the Information Technology Industry, Sri Lanka (FITIS), is Sri Lanka's National Federation of IT Trade Associations involved in hardware, software, computer education and training, Internet services and communications

Objectives:

- To provide a negotiating body and represent the IT industry on all matters concerning and in discussion with, the Government of Sri Lanka and instrumentalities thereof
- To encourage and promote members to provide world class products, services and solutions in Sri Lanka and overseas
- To act as the advisory consultative body for the industry
- To formulate and propose model legislation and other such measures for the advancement of the IT industry to the best interests of the Country
- To collaborate with the relevant government, national and international organizations
- To protect the interests and objectives of member organizations and their respective members
- To establish a forum for exchanging information, developing closer relationships between members and identifying new business opportunities with IT organizations in other Countries
- FITIS is a Member of the Asian Oceanian Computing Industry Organisation (ASOCIO) an organization that was established to develop the Computing Industry in the Asian and Oceanian region. It has members representing 24 countries in the region.
- FITIS has signed an MOU with the Manufacturers Association for Information Technology - India.

Member Associations

SLCVA - Sri Lanka Computer Vendors Association

Established in 1988, the Association has 48 members and represents computer hardware vendors. It organizes awareness seminars for the general public.

SLASI - Sri Lanka Association for the Software Industry

Established in 1992, this Association comprises 58 software development organizations and is the national organization representing the Software Industry in Sri Lanka

ACTOS – Association of Computer Training Organisations

Established in 1991 the members of ACTOS are Companies whose business is in the providing Education and Training in Information Technology. The membership now stands at 32.

FITIS has introduced an uniform Code of Ethics to observed by the member Associations as well as their constituent members.